11. Internet domain names, or "web addresses," such as the domain name at the center of this dispute, have an exceedingly high value because domain names are needed to locate and access Internet websites and there are a limited number of available domain names.

ECC'S Registration and Use of the Ascentrealestate.com Domain Name

- 12. ECC is the owner of the ascentrealestate.com domain name and acquired the domain name because the Ascent brand is positive and uplifting, and has religious connotations for one of the principals of ECC. ECC's portfolio of Ascent formative domain names includes the following: AscentRealEstate.com, AscendRealEstate.com, AscensionHomes.com, AscensionProperties.com, AscensionProperty.com, AscensionRealEstate.com, and AscensionRealty.com.
- 13. ECC has used the ascentrealestate.com domain name to display webpages containing information about various services related to real estate.
- 14. ECC has used and/or licensed the ascentrealestate.com domain name continuously since acquiring the domain name.
- 15. ECC has displayed a website through the ascentrealestate.com domain name that includes a search function for real estate which is provided by ZipRealty, Inc. ("ZipRealty"). Upon information and belief, ZipRealty is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of California with its principal place of business at 2000 Powell Street, Suite 300, Emeryville, California 94608.

Ascent's Accusation of Trademark Infringement and Lanham Act Violations

- 16. On information and belief, Ascent was formed as a corporation with the state of California on April 4, 2005.
- 17. On information and belief, Ascent or its principal registered the domain name ascentrealestate.net on or about March 30, 2005 after learning that ascentrealestate.com had already been registered.
- 18. Ascent claims ownership of two U.S. registered trademarks: A ASCENT REAL ESTATE (and Design), Registration No. 3,195,161; and ASCENT REAL ESTATE, Registration No. 4,230,114 (referred to herein collectively as "the Ascent Marks").

- 19. The mark A ASCENT REAL ESTATE (and Design), Registration No. 3,195,161, was issued by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office on January 2, 2007. The application for the mark A ASCENT REAL ESTATE (and Design), Registration No. 3,195,161, was filed on June 2, 2005.
- 20. Registration No. 3,195,161 claims a sworn date of first use of the trademark in U.S. interstate commerce of April 4, 2005—the same day that Ascent was incorporated.
- 21. Registration No. 3,195,161 includes a sworn affidavit by Ascent that "to the best of his/her knowledge and belief no other person, firm, corporation, or association has the right to use the mark in commerce, either in the identical form thereof or in such near resemblance thereto as to be likely, when used on or in connection with the goods/services of such other person, to cause confusion, or to cause mistake, or to deceive."
- 22. The mark ASCENT REAL ESTATE, Registration No. 4,230,114, was issued by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office on October 23, 2012. The application for the mark ASCENT REAL ESTATE, Registration No. 4,230,114, was filed on March 21, 2012.
- 23. Registration No. 4,230,114 claims a sworn date of first use of the trademark in U.S. interstate commerce of April 1, 2005—three days before Ascent was incorporated.
- 24. Registration No. 4,230,114 includes a sworn affidavit by Ascent that "to the best of his/her knowledge and belief no other person, firm, corporation, or association has the right to use the mark in commerce, either in the identical form thereof or in such near resemblance thereto as to be likely, when used on or in connection with the goods/services of such other person, to cause confusion, or to cause mistake, or to deceive."
- 25. On April 8, 2013, Ascent sent a letter ("Ascent April 2013 Letter") to ECC's business partner ZipRealty, asserting Ascent's purported rights associated with the Ascent Marks. See Exhibit A.
  - 26. A copy of the Ascent April 2013 Letter was sent by Ascent to ECC.
- 27. The Ascent April 2013 Letter asserted that ZipRealty's use of the term "Ascent Real Estate" in the ascentrealestate.com domain name infringes Ascent's trademarks, is actionable under the Lanham Act, and that such conduct is actionable under California state law

6	Ascent's threat of trademark infringement and the other purported legal violations. See Exhibi
7	B.
8	30. In the ECC April 2013 Letter, ECC also requested that Ascent retract its claim of
9	trademark infringement and other purported violations. ECC further warned that, if Ascent dic
10	not retract its claims, ECC would consider pursuing: (1) the cancellation of Ascent's trademark
11	registrations on grounds of priority; (2) a claim of tortious interference; and (3) a declaration of
12	the lawfulness of ECC's actions under the Lanham Act and the Anticybersquatting Consume

14	31. Ascent responded in writing via a letter dated June 14, 2013 ("Ascent June 2013
15	Letter"). See Exhibit C.
16	32. In the Ascent June 2013 Letter, Ascent did not withdraw its accusations of
17	trademark and other violations set forth in its April 2013 Letter. In the Ascent June 2013 Letter
18	Ascent reiterated its belief that "ECC and ZipRealty are in violation of the Lanham Act."
19	COUNT I
20	CLAIM FOR DECLARATORY RELIEF
21	(Declaration of No Trademark Infringement)
22	33. ECC incorporates herein by reference each and every allegation contained in
23	Paragraphs 1-32 above, as though fully set forth herein.
24	34. By virtue of the Ascent April 2013 Letter and the Ascent June 2013 Letter, there is
25	an actual and existing controversy between ECC and Ascent in that Ascent has demanded that
26	ECC and its business partner cease using the ascentrealestate.com domain name and transfer the
27	ascentrealestate.com domain name to Ascent. Ascent has not renounced the threatened claims
28	against ECC under the Lanham Act and common law.
	5 COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY RELIEF
	J CUMPLAINT FUR DECLARATURY RELIEF

- 35. ECC contends that Ascent's use of the ascentrealestate.com domain name infringes the Ascent Marks, among other contentions.
- 36. ECC disputes Ascent's contentions, and contends, among other things, that ECC's use of the ascentrealestate.com domain name does not infringe or dilute any valid federal trademark registration or common law trademark right owned by Ascent, does not constitute unfair competition, and does not cause injury to Ascent's business reputation.
- 37. In light of such controversy between the parties, ECC seeks a declaration from this Court that ECC's use of the ascentrealestate.com domain name does not infringe or dilute any valid trademark registrations owned by Ascent or any common law rights Ascent may have accrued through the use of the Ascent Marks and does not violate any applicable common law or statutory unfair competition law.
- 38. Such a declaration is necessary and proper at this time in that, among other things, such a declaration will establish whether ECC and its business partner ZipRealty, Inc. may continue using the ascentrealestate.com domain name.

COUNT II

CLAIM FOR DECLARATORY RELIEF

(Declaration of No Cyberpiracy)

- 39. ECC incorporates herein by reference each and every allegation contained in Paragraphs 1-38 above, as though fully set forth herein.
- 40. By virtue of the Ascent April 2013 Letter and the Ascent June 2013 Letter, there is an actual and existing controversy between ECC and Ascent in that Ascent has demanded that ECC and its business partner cease using the ascentrealestate.com domain name. Ascent has not renounced the threatened claim against ECC under the Anticybersquatting Consumer Protection Act.
- 41. The actions described above by ECC evidence the absence of a bad faith intent to profit, within the meaning of Anticybersquatting Consumer Protection Act, by ECC.
- 42. The actions described above evidence a belief by ECC that the use of the domain name was a fair use or otherwise lawful.

43. The actions described above evidence reasonable grounds for belief by ECC that the use of the domain name was a fair use or otherwise lawful.
44. ECC is entitled to a judgment of no bad faith intent in the registration or use of the domain name.
45. In light of such controversy between the parties, ECC seeks a declaration from this Court that ECC's registration and use of the ascentrealestate.com domain name does not violate the Anticybersquatting Consumer Protection Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1125(d).
46. Such a declaration is necessary and proper at this time in that, among other things, such a declaration will establish whether ECC and its business partner ZipRealty, Inc. may continue using the ascentrealestate.com domain name.
PRAYER FOR RELIEF
WHEREFORE, ECC respectfully requests of this Court:
1. For a declaration that the ECC's use of the ascentrealestate.com domain name doe not:
a. Infringe or dilute any of Ascent's registered trademarks or any common law rights it might have accrued;
b. Violate Section 32 of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1114(1)(a);
c. Violate Section 43(a) of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a);
d. Violate Section 43(c) of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1125(c);
e. Violate Section 43(d) of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1125(d); or
f. Violate any applicable common law or statutory unfair competition law;
2. That the Court order an award of costs and reasonable attorneys' fees, pursuant to the Lanham Act, or as otherwise permitted by law, incurred by ECC in connection with this action; and
